Concealed solar panels

Overview

Are solar panels a real concealer?

Some types of solar panels can act as real concealers. For example, building-integrated photovoltaics (BIPV) look like roofs and windows in your home. Some solar panels will look exactly like shingles and will be hard for anyone passing by to notice.

How to hide solar panels?

By making some changes such as placing some bushes, trees, and plants around your solar panels will make it possible to hide your solar panels. While you can make solar panels less visible to people looking at your home, you still have to make sure to leave your panels exposed to direct sunlight.

How do you conceal solar panels on a roof?

Solar energy is becoming more and more popular, but if you're not comfortable with the look of traditional solar panels, you may wonder how to conceal them. To conceal solar panels on your roof, you could use all-black solar panels or aluminum coverings that match the color of your roof.

Can solar panels be hidden?

However, it is possible to hide solar panels so that they are less visible. One way to do this is to use building-integrated photovoltaics or BIPV. With BIPV, solar panels are integrated into the structure of the building, such as being used as shingles or built into the façade.
