Overview

What types of containers does Nordic container trading sell?

Our fleet includes standard units and special units. Nordic Container Trading has extensive experience in refrigerated containers, namely a complete fleet of 20 and 40 feet in new and used condition, and we generally sell Carrier, Daikin and Thermoking brand units.

What types of dry bulk containers does Nordic bulkers offer?

Within our fleet, Nordic Bulkers boasts a diverse array of dry bulk containers, including those equipped with inner liners and pressurized units. These containers feature strategically positioned loading hatches on their roofs and are outfitted with state-of-the-art safety measures for secure handling.

Who is Nordic bulkers?

Nordic Bulkers specializes in providing sustainable transport solutions, individualized storage concepts, and innovative logistics strategies tailored specifically for handling dry bulk products.

Why should you choose Nordic bulkers?

Our extensive range of bulk containers allows us to maximize payload optimization, ensuring the most efficient total economy for our clients. Partner with Nordic Bulkers for innovative solutions that prioritize sustainability, efficiency, and reliability in the transportation of dry bulk products.
