Overview

Why are batteries so important in the Netherlands?

Batteries are indispensable for the energy transition. Yet the development of battery projects in the Netherlands lags behind that in other countries. This is because batteries in the Netherlands have to pay to take power from the grid.

Will Eneco and EP NL invest in a battery storage project?

The storage project will make use of the plant's existing grid connection. But while making the announcement, the two companies were vocal about costly obstacles in the Netherlands for batteries. Eneco and EP NL have announced a joint investment in a 50 MW / 200 MWh battery storage project at the Enecogen power plant in the port of Rotterdam.

Who is responsible for battery development in the Netherlands?

Enecogen is responsible for maintenance and operations. The EP NL and Eneco trading departments control the battery. Batteries are indispensable and acceleration is necessary. Batteries are indispensable for the energy transition. Yet the development of battery projects in the Netherlands lags behind that in other countries.

Does Eneco have a battery in the Netherlands?

At the same time, it's a shame that this is only Eneco's first own battery in the Netherlands. We are still miles away from achieving the battery capacity required in the Netherlands to prevent power shortages and grid congestion, as well as reducing emissions from our energy system sufficiently.
