Solar panel comparison

Overview

What are the different types of solar panels?

Solar Panels are of diverse types and capacities. Available types are Monocrystalline and Polycrystalline materials. The cost of polycrystalline solar panels is lower since they are less productive and efficient. Conversely, monocrystalline solar panels are more expensive and produce a higher output.

What factors should you consider when comparing solar panels?

The key factors to consider when comparing solar panels are performance (they should produce the power that the rating leads you to expect), quality, durability and beneficial warranty terms. Aesthetics can also play a role in a consumer's decision-making process.

Are solar panels more efficient?

Solar panels are getting more efficient every year, as are the appliances in your home. Just look at lightbulbs as an example: modern LED bulbs use 85 per cent less power than traditional incandescent bulbs.
