Where is a photovoltaic power plant located in Italy?

This is an 84.2 megawatt (MW) photovoltaic power plant situated in Montalto di Castro, Viterbo, Italy. SunRay, an independent developer who was eventually acquired by SunPower, developed the project. The park is Italy's largest PV project and one of Europe's largest. This project was completed in numerous phases.

How can Italy reshape national energy security?

As part of its broader efforts to reshape national energy security, Italy has set out four key conditions for solar systems with a capacity of 1MW or more that are seeking subsidies. These systems must use solar modules, solar cells and inverters that are not of Chinese origin, and at least one other core component must also be non-Chinese.

What does Italy's new 'preferential treatment' mean for non-Chinese solar projects?

This new legislation introduces preferential treatment for solar projects that use non-Chinese solar modules. This represents not only Italy's independent action, but also the EU's first effort to implement the resilience standards set out in the Net-Zero Industry Act.
