How long do lithium-iron phosphate batteries last?

Most lithium-iron phosphate batteries are rated for 2,000 to 5,000 charge cycles. That kind of cycle life makes a big difference for anyone relying on consistent, long-term energy storage—whether it's in an RV, solar setup, boat, or home backup system.

How long do LiFePO<sub>4</sub> batteries last?

High operational temperatures can degrade the electrode activity of LiFePO<sub>4</sub> batteries, shortening their lifespan. Maintaining a moderate operating temperature is beneficial for prolonging battery life. Under typical conditions, LiFePO<sub>4</sub> batteries have a cycle life exceeding 2,000 cycles. However, this varies based on usage intensity.

How long do ionic batteries last?

A Bit of Upkeep Goes a Long Way: Store them properly, check in on them occasionally, and you'll get years of steady performance—whether for solar, RV, marine, or backup use. Ionic deep cycle batteries routinely last 10+ years. What is a LiFePO<sub>4</sub> Battery?

A LiFePO<sub>4</sub> battery is a rechargeable battery made with lithium iron phosphate.

How do I extend the lithium FePO<sub>4</sub> battery cycle life?

How to extend the LiFePO<sub>4</sub> battery cycle life Ufine Battery recommends the following engineering and usage guidelines to maximize cycle life: Keep DoD  $\leq 80\%$  for general applications;  $\leq 50\%$  for mission-critical systems. Charge at  $\leq 0.5C$ , discharge  $\leq 1C$  whenever possible. Avoid charging below 0°C — lithium plating can occur.
